

Dr. Hill, originally from Pennsylvania, earned a medical degree from The Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. After a rotating internship, he worked for two years with the Indian Health Service, assigned to the Navajo tribe in Gallup, New Mexico. He completed his Orthopaedic surgical residency at Michigan State University. Following the residency, Dr. Hill completed a fellowship in Arthritis and Reconstructive Surgery at the Cleveland Clinic. He came to Cincinnati to enter private practice in 1995 and joined Ohio Valley Orthopaedics and Sports Medicine, Inc. in 1999. Dr. Hill is certified by the American Osteopathic Board of Orthopaedic Surgery and is a fellow of the American Academy of Osteopathic Orthopaedic Surgeons. Along with practicing general Orthopaedics, his special interests include sports medicine and adult reconstructive surgery. Dr. Hill provides physician coverage for local high school football teams. He is a volunteer instructor at the University of Cincinnati, Department of Orthopaedic Surgery, where he spends time providing physician leadership at the VA Medical Center.